ROYAL BLUE

Dear Joe:

Here it is May, 1943, and another successful year at Walla Walla High School is finished. It's been a year with our country at war and this fact has been evident in many phases of school life. It has meant sharp curtailment of social affairs, more students than ever before handling part-time jobs, and the ever decreasing male population. But this year at Wa-Hi has seen other things too. It has seen the successful establishment of a strong Victory Corps. It has seen an increased enrollment in math, physical education, and science classes which means that minds and bodies are being tuned to an Allied victory.

I was disappointed, Joe, that gas rationing and a tire scarcity prevented you from making your usual visit to Wa-Hi this year to see all these things take place. However, maybe these pictures and this letter will give you an idea of our year's activities.

Here's hoping you can make a visit soon to see Wa-Hi train for victory.

HEADQUARTERS COMMUNIQUE

MR. LACEY
Superintendent

MR. LOBAUGH
Principal

You have paid for this annual, I presume. So keep it. Some day you will get a chuckle out of it. Keepsakes may be worthless but the desire to keep them is precious. Memories, friendships, associations are firm land to which to cling for the future. And you need something firm today. Never have times been better for drifting.

How can a man keep sane in a world gone berserk? That's your problem,—and mine. Each in our own way, we hope we can make it. It would be fine if the world would do thus and so, but it won't. So we'll endure what we can't change, and make the best of it, improving our little part, and hoping eternally.

W. A. LACEY

It has been a trying year. Circumstances over which your generation has had no control have placed many new and difficult problems before you. As a group, you have met them well—without hysterics, without bitterness. We would all have a right to be pleased if the adult population of America would meet its war time responsibilities as unselfishly as you have.

READY TO FACE THE FUTURE

"You can always tell a senior by his high and mighty air," but then haven't they got a right to feel superior? Four hard years completed and they leave Wa-Hi with a sigh of relief or is it regret? Anyway, they have come through a trying year with flying colors. The first surprise of the season came when the seniors decided to "sneak" before gas rationing and suddenly left classes one day early in the fall.

Twenty-eight members were honored by being chosen for National Honor Society. Senior class members comprise a large number of such organizations as Red Cross, Victory Corps, school clubs, athletic teams and chorus groups.

Many boys have left their senior year to go into the armed services and we are proud of them. Also, Jim Nelson and Norman Smedes received appointments to West Point.

Graduation exercises are set for May 28 with Baccalaureate the preceding Sunday. Arrangements for these two occasions are in the hands of a committee composed of Jack Dull, Virginia Dirks, Jamie Hartley, Irma Danielson, Jim Lehmann, Max Renick, Ruth Schneidmiller, Shirley Pfaffle, Lila Nissen, Leslie Gorham, Ellis Laidlaw, and Pat Kroeger.

Dorothy Meiners and Barbara Jessup have had complete charge of fitting, checking and keeping caps and gowns in order.

FUTURE "BIG SHOTS"

First Semester

Dean Gehrett*Pres.* Richard Nightingale
 Dick Turbak*Vice-Pres.* Clinton Aiton
 Bob Klicker*Sec-Treas.* Charles Maiden
 Miss Robison*Adviser* Miss Robison

Junior Officers:
 Gehrett, Turbak, B. Klicker

Here they are, Joe, next year's high and mighty seniors, and from all evidences they are going to be plenty good at it.

The juniors headed the first semester's honor roll with 30 students. The juniors held the limelight, too, in other phases of school activities.

Because the juniors realize the importance of physical training, football, basketball, baseball, and boxing have added much to the average junior's curriculum. John Stephens and Dick Turbak were outstanding members of this year's football team, and consequently were elected co-captains of next year's team.

Clinton Aiton, Dave Binder, Alan Berry, Ray Bell, John Stephens, Sherman Mitchell, Dean Gehrett, Bob Hall, and Richard Nightingale were regulars on the basketball squad, while Frank Turner, Bob Anhorn, and Dick Turbak were mainstays on the boxing team. Other students have been active in debate, orchestra, and Journal work. Jim Esary acted as assistant editor on the Journal staff, while Phyllis Robinson was one of the regulars on the radio program.

Della Armstrong, Harry Smedes, Wandalee Fleck, Bob Naimy, and Dick Jones had important roles in the all school play, "Ladies of the Jury."

Upholding law and order in Wa-Hi were Richard Nightingale, Joyce Neel, and Bob Klicker, appointed as Justices of the Supreme court.

A student who has performed unusual service is Arthur Shinbo, whose art work has helped promote the rag drive, book drive, and nearly every social affair. Many students have served on Girls' and Boys' Federation committees. The Victory Corps, F.F.A. Chapter, and the Red Cross can also boast their share of junior members.

Burton Boyan, a junior, is business manager of the 1943 Royal Blue.

The graduating class of 1945 is beginning to prepare now for their duties as future leaders of Wa-Hi.

Ranking high scholastically, the sophomores rated twenty-seven places on the first quarter honor roll, twenty-nine on the semester, and twenty-five on the third quarter honor roll. Elinor De Boer was the only sophomore student earning a straight "A" card.

Representatives to Girls' Cabinet were Joan Rader and Rita Harrison. Donna Mahan, Corleen Sporleder, Clara Rich, and Maryalis Anhorn were on the Girls' Council.

Five sophomores had parts in the all-school play "Ladies of the Jury," they were: Ralph Ruff, Susan Teague, Clayton Michaelis, Rita Harrison, and Phyllis Kidwell.

Clayton Michaelis was a regular radio announcer.

Billy Quinn was a regular on the football squad and Bob Plucker was on the basketball team. Carl Jacky, Bud Pringle, Eugene Schwartz, Dick Frank, Mel Haas and Vincent Locati were active on the boxing squad.

Mel Haas and Marie Campbell were sophomore members of the student court.

Such activities as Victory Corps, Red Cross, School Choirs and orchestra also boast their share of sophomore members.

Homeroom 318 won the basketball tournament in the girls' competition.

Half-way through their high-school career the sophomores are a promising group of students.

Freshman Officers:

Frank, Graham, Robinson

At the end of their first year in high school the freshmen appear a little less green and bewildered but still freshmen nevertheless.

An unusual amount of talent was found among the members of the freshman class. Musicians who displayed their talent were Marilyn McEvoy and Richard Graham, pianists; Barbara Ann Jamieson, vocalist; Eloise Dorsey, flutist; June Webster, saxophone; and Donna Trout, dancer. Harriet DeBoer, Dorothy Dodd, Gordon Jaynes, Jack Stockton, Lawrence Torrey, Norma Underwood, Walter Tianen, Dick Ellis, Jim Mitchell, Robert Williams, Gene Frank, Gerry Decker, June Webster, Grover Schiffman, and Wilbur Gallaher proved their worth as musicians in the high school band. Freshmen who participated in the orchestra were Bonnie Potter, Bonnie Jean Weidert, Harriet DeBoer, Dorothy Dodd, and June Webster.

Freshmen won second place in the Everett pep rally with their colorful float.

Freshmen, too, have had their share of scholastic honors with fifty-nine members on the first semester honor roll.

WHAT YOUR STUDENT TICKET BUYS

Under the able leadership of Bob Sporleder as president of the student body, the students of Walla Walla High School have come through on top side of a trying year.

Despite fewer social functions, the students have managed to keep themselves occupied. An estimated half of the students have been handling part-time jobs, thus necessitating a curtailment of extra-curricular activities.

The first two pay assemblies of the year were exceptionally fine, and the students are eagerly awaiting the final one. The first pay assembly featured the Gay Vaqueros—three boys and their guitars from Old Mexico. They presented a program of gay and sparkling music, explained customs of Mexico, and demonstrated some of their native dances.

Chuck Collins, blind entertainer, provided the program for the next pay assembly. His program included the singing of both classical and popular songs, and demonstrated the artist's ability as a pianist. In closing, he explained the use of the Braille system.

The student book store continued to be a successful student enterprise, with even a larger supply of study materials, and was patronized by the students at every hour of the school day.

Students actively participated in rag and scrap drives, turning over a large amount of needed material for use in the present emergency.

The bond drive was really the one thing which illustrated the cooperation of the students as a whole. The quota set was exceeded by a 200 per cent margin, and received national recognition.

The annual federal inspection was held this year on May 7 and as a school play day was attended and enjoyed by all.

The only major catastrophe of the year came in the form of falling plaster. The accident took place in Room 317 with Jimmy Middleton, an innocent sophomore, as the victim. Injuries were not serious however, and a complete inspection of the roof followed.

Vice-president Stan Maiden dropped out of school the second semester to assist his father in farming operations. His duties as chairman of the legislative assembly were assumed by Jeanne McFarland for the remainder of the year.

Of the assemblies prepared by student organizations one of the most efficiently planned and highly entertaining was presented by the Future Farmers of America. Of the "Take It or Leave It" type, the quiz featured the names of faculty members suggested by brief skits put on by members of the organization. Chub Maiden, president of the F. F. A., acted as master of ceremonies and paid off the contestants with candy bars.

Establishment of a downtown recreational club through the cooperation of city officials furnished the high school students with a place to enjoy themselves and to buy refreshments at cost.

THE GIRL FRIENDS

This year the activities of the Girls' Federation have been numerous and varied.

The establishing of a point system is one of the main developments, and enables the Federation to give due credit to all who partake in its affairs. Another new development was the entertaining of girls from federations in other towns. This made it possible for the girls to talk over various problems and gain new ideas.

Friendship was stressed again this year, and several affairs were held for new girls. An important part of this was to have on call a girl for each period of the day to act as hostess for girls who were just enrolling. The friendship committee, headed by Leoma Kann and Shirley Pfaffle, did outstanding work in developing friendship among Wa-Hi girls.

The social affairs were somewhat curtailed, due to the war, but several affairs were held. Outstanding among these was the party in the gym, which had as its theme "Black Magic," and two parties for new girls, which were held in the lounge. The Girls' and Boys' Federations planned and sponsored the Wa-Hi carnival.

Many girls in the Federation have taken part in the war work, such as the Red Cross and Victory Corps. The Federation purchased a war bond to be used after the war in developing the school.

The assemblies have consisted of a spring and fall fashion show, a musical assembly, a dramatic play, and an open forum discussion, in addition to several others. Among the speakers who talked to the girls are Mrs. L. W. Riess who told of the bombing of Pearl Harbor, and an officer from the WAACS. Also girls were given the opportunity to talk to representatives from some of the well-known colleges about their future plans.

The annual senior tea sponsored by the junior girls for the senior girls and their mothers, was held this year, Wednesday evening, April 7.

The Girls' Federation is the only organization which includes all the girls in Wa-Hi, and has a major part in maintaining self-government and democracy among the students.

THE BOY FRIENDS

This year is one that will be remembered by the boys of Wa-Hi as one of intensive activity. Bob Demory served as president of the Federation, assisted by Louis Gehrett, vice-president, Bob Lange, secretary, and Paul Criscola, treasurer. These officers led the boys through a highly successful year.

The greatest improvement has been the utilization of an unused classroom for a boys' lounge. It contains a ping-pong table and checker board with pictures of former Wa-Hi athletes adorning the walls. The Federation friendship committee, similar to that maintained by the girls, insures new students of a warm welcome.

As usual, the boys have sponsored the Intramural homeroom competition, furnishing recreation for a large number of students. A quiz program for an all-school assembly and a radio program covering purposes and activities of the Federation were presented. Four boys' assemblies were held. The first featured Dr. Richardson of Whitman College as speaker, and the second, Captain George Roberts of the Walla Walla Air Base. An impressive farewell assembly was held for Lawrence Jacky, faculty member who left mid-year for the service.

Despite a marked decrease in the male element of Wa-Hi's student body, the Boys' Federation has carried on its splendid work and will continue to do so for many years to come.

THE GRUBBERS

Well, here it is. The result of hours and hours of toil and tears and midnight oil, well mixed, is a high school annual.

Lack of student interest in a sales campaign, shortages of materials, and leaky water pipes got the staff off to a good snappy start. The photographers, Bob Naimy and Richard Nightingale, managed to keep ahead of a complete lack of films by slightly more than a half-step.

The leaky water pipes in room 111, former home of the Royal Blue, rusted the staff typewriter and ruined many of the pictures then on hand.

Trying to figure the number of student and faculty work hours that go into the production of a Royal Blue would result in the naming of a figure that no one not on the staff would believe.

The staff this year has been small, with Leoma Kann serving as editor, Lois Waldron as copy editor, Helen O'Hearn as Jill-of-all-trades, Burton Boylan as business manager, and Bob Naimy and Richard Nightingale as photographers. Betty Lawrence was a staff member until a downtown job lured her away.

Royal Blue headquarters moved during the second semester from room 111 to room 208, a more central location and a lighter room.

Had you dropped into room 208 after school during the first two weeks of April, you would have been impressed by the feverish activity evidenced by the workers. It wasn't as many suspected, that they had taken a spring tonic. It was just the usual last minute rush of a staff trying to meet its deadlines.

NEWS WHEN ITS HOT

Chief merit of the new Journal is the efficiency with which it collects and presents the news to every Wa-Hi student every school morning. This is a striking contrast to the previous system of publishing our high school paper once or twice a month.

Under the direction of co-editors, Evelyn Kludas and Bill Fouts, a large staff worked long hours perfecting the novel plan of producing the paper. A new duplicating machine purchased for the journal makes possible student work in printing as well as in writing the news. Illustrations play a big part in the daily journal with at least one cartoon and several other pictures appearing in each issue.

Not only does the new journal print all school news, but it also gives publicity to matters of administrative nature, such as schedules for health examinations and annual pictures, and important last-minute announcements formerly requiring a homeroom bulletin.

With much experimentation in organizing and preparing the Journal necessary at first, the staff gradually developed in efficiency until the news could be gathered, edited and printed by four o'clock each day for distribution next morning. This work requires the close cooperation of a large staff of students working with school officials. A student poll during the second semester brought an overwhelming response in favor of maintaining the daily form of streamlined journal.

By the second semester the students who had earned positions of responsibility were Jim Esary and Sybil Tate, acting as assistant to Evelyn Kludas, editor; Barbara Willman and Carol Morris, handling the work of preparing pictures and headlines for printing; Mary Lu Kimmerly, in charge of publishing, aided by Wayne Gordon; and a staff of reporters including Wandalee Fleck, Rachel Knowles, Rita Harrison, Phyllis Day, Jack Fitzgerald, Jamie Hartley, and Anne Judy.

Typing work was handled during the year by Lois Stebner, Louise Colombo, Deloris Kralman, and Pheobe Weaver. The business of the paper in all its forms was handled by Jack Dull, experienced business manager, and his assistant Harry Smedes.

James Stevens was faculty adviser.

WA-HI ON THE AIR

"Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen of the radio audience." This, as well as several other phrases, have marked the beginning of Wa-Hi's weekly radio presentations, which are prepared and presented each Thursday afternoon by members of the Associated Student Body.

Maintaining a staff of four radio announcers and an equal number of newscasters, the high school has made these half-hour performances each week constitute one of Wa-Hi's most active and prominent speech activities.

Our successful and varied programs "over the air" have been the result of whole-hearted cooperation and effort on the part of Miss Yates, Miss Pfeiffer, and Miss Moseley, faculty radio advisers, Lois Waldron, Virginia Dirks, Phyllis Robinson and Clayton Michaels, student broadcasters, Elaine Burgess, Anne Judy, Jack King, and Jamie Hartley, newscasters, Russell Harrison, technician, and many others who have devoted their time and help so willingly

We of Wa-Hi are indeed proud of the opportunities provided to numerous students in the way of obtaining actual radio experience, and being able to further immensely our truly sacred heritage, freedom of speech for every American.

FOR THE SAKE OF ARGUMENT

The departure from school of two varsity debate members and limited transportation facilities curtailed the year's forensic activities to the extent that debaters made only one out-of-town trip. That was to Colfax on January 12 and resulted in three wins and three losses.

Varsity debaters in a special assembly, discussed the possibility of a federal world government after the war. Harold Howard and Norman Smedes spoke in favor of such a setup while Gerry Miller and Everill Cummins opposed it.

Other activities included an informal debate with Whitman freshmen and a freshman interscholastic debate. Freshmen taking part in debate included Delores Clure, Florence Frankson, Bert Graff, Verle Burch, Sally Chriscoe, Kathryn Kimmerly, Katherine Kirkpatrick, and Shirley Hertz.

Mr. Lobaugh acts as debate coach.

VICTORY CORPS

The newest organization in Wa-Hi and the one that has been rendering an unusual amount of service this year is the Wa-Hi Victory Corps. The local chapter is only one of the many in the nation.

Elaine Burgess, student chairman; Kenny Jones, vice-chairman; Nadine Daggett, secretary; and Jim Buck, treasurer were chosen early in the fall and the inaugural assembly was held December 7. Soon afterward the Corps sponsored a book drive for the boys in the service.

Nearly a truck load of rags for use by the Navy was collected. Jacky Souders and the "Pasco Flyers" stimulated the rag drive by entertaining the students at an assembly during the week of the drive.

The Corps-sponsored war bond drive raised more than ten thousand dollars in a week for the purpose of buying life rafts. Success of the campaign was a subject for comment in the local papers and on the radio program which features Sam Hayes. The campaign to raise funds for the Red Cross resulted in the collection of more than $130.00 for that organization.

Twenty-four girls of the community service division under the direction of Mrs. Kenyon work down town every Saturday changing war posters and doing defense telephoning.

A radio program explained the activities of the land service division, directed by Major Porter, production division directed by Mr. Lybecker, and the community service division directed by Mrs. Kenyon.

TRAINING FOR VICTORY

Strange as it may seem, war has a tendency to disrupt the normally smooth program of a Reserve Officers' Training Unit.

Lowering of the draft age brought each cadet closer to active service. As a result, the work of the corps carried added seriousness for each member. Most noticeable change in R.O.T.C. schedule has been the holding of a drill period for a company each of four periods during the day and the reserving of designated Friday homeroom periods for battalion ceremonies. This change resulted in better supervision, and necessitated fewer classrooms, centralizing all instruction in the industrial arts building.

A sixteen-millimeter sound motion picture projector makes possible the utilization of the many new and interesting films furnished by the War department. The recent issue of 185 Victory trainers compensates in part for the loss of the U. S. rifles, model 1903, which were turned over to combat units of the army. The building of two eight-foot scaling walls marks the beginning of a commando course.

Although nearly half of the girls' sponsor company are new members, their precision and interest in drill surpasses all past performances. They now form a fifth company in all battalion ceremonies.

An honor rating was awarded the corps by the War Department as a result of its work last school year. The yearly tactical inspection and military ball are scheduled for May 7. The administrative inspection was held in February and the report of Lt. Col. Daniel Jones was very complimentary to the corps.

The band is now in its twenty-third year under the direction of Mr. Hal C. Tilley. It has appeared this year at all school games, numerous parades, bond drives and concerts for both political and teachers institutes.

SONG BIRDS

Vocal music at Wa-Hi consists of three well organized groups, of which the mixed choir, meeting third period, is the largest. Next largest group is the girls' glee club which meets three days each week during the fourth period. The smallest and youngest of the three is the boys' glee club of 18 voices. A substantial increase in membership in all the vocal groups has been apparent during the last few years. Many freshmen and sophomores are enrolled in the present classes.

Regrouping and rearranging for more efficient work in future years is under way at the present time. Classes in music study will be offered again in the new year and a picked choir of mixed voices is also in the making.

The various organizations made numerous public appearances throughout the year. Of the more elaborate and formal concert programs were the Christmas concert, with the cooperation of the All-City Elementary School A Cappella Choir, and the spring concert during music week. The groups also took part in the first Southeastern Washington-Northeastern Oregon Music Competition Festival. They appeared at the various service clubs, the U.S.O., and other downtown organizations, as well as on assembly programs and the radio hour at Wa-Hi.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Membership in the National Honor Society is limited to those students who rank in the top fifteen per cent of the senior class scholastically and have shown themselves to possess qualities of leadership, character, and service. Five per cent of these students are chosen in the final quarter of their junior year, and the remaining ten per cent are selected in the fall and in the spring of their senior year. A faculty committee makes the selections.

The society meets on the first Tuesday of each month. Activities for the year, in addition to the regular initiation ceremonies, consisted of the participation of the group as a whole in assisting the war bond drive and the regular Tuesday morning stamp sales.

Officers for the first semester were: Lois Waldron, president; Maurine Elliott, vice-president; Elisabeth Dotson, secretary; and Nadine Taylor, treasurer.

Evelyn Kludas, president; Richard Klicker, vice-president; Leoma Kann, secretary, and Shirley Pfaffle, treasurer were the officers of the second semester.

Miss Hamm is society adviser.

Newest members of the group are Gloria Hergert, Ruth Schneidmiller, Barbara Willman, Shirley Buehler, Rachel Knowles, and Juanita Walter, seniors; and Wesley Benefiel, William Berney, Neil Follett, Maxine Lanchester, Eunice Maier, Carol Morris, Joyce Neel, Richard Nightingale, Willa Ogden, Marjorie Pifer, Harry Smedes, and Charlotte Wirth, juniors.

HOLD THAT LINE

A victory over Yakima and a tie with Lewiston took the sting from an otherwise disastrous football season. Coach Buck Blair's charges were frequently outscored but never outfought nor overshadowed in sportsmanship. Team spirit and cooperation were very high all season. Bob Demory and Myles Wirth, co-captains, did much to keep the enthusiasm of the group at a high pitch. Dick Turbak and John Stephens have been chosen co-captains for the 1943 season.

Red hot team spirit kept the Wa-Hi basketball squad, which had a preponderance of juniors, giving all it had throughout the season in spite of many heart-breaking one and two-point losses. Although they won only eight of their 23 games, the Blue Devils accumulated a higher total of points than did their opponents during the season. Their widest margin of defeat was a 48 to 35 trouncing administered by Colfax in eliminating Wa-Hi from the district tournament. Their greatest margin of victory was a 40 to 19 win over Prescott.

Coach W. G. Ledbetter, in his first year at the Blue and White helm, developed a team that should cause many headaches among its opponents during the coming season. The season's record is the more remarkable in that there was only one letterman available for basketball at the beginning of the season. Al Turley, the letterman, saw little service because of a knee injury early in the schedule.

Fifteen boys took part in varsity games during the year, illustrating the keen competition for positions that existed all season.

Letters were awarded to Alan Berry, Clinton Aiton, Richard Nightingale, Ray Bell, Dave Binder, Sherman Mitchell, Bob Hall, and Dean Gehrett.

The "B" squad rolled up an impressive record, winning nine of their eleven games. Their only losses were two close ones to the Prescott "A" team. The Bees won over Waitsburg, St. Patrick's, and Weston "A" teams, and from the Dayton and Mac-Hi Bees. Early "B" games developed several boys who were later transferred to the "A" squad.

Burton Thompson, John Heath, Bob Plucker, Wayne Fondahn, Wes Benefiel, Charley Chase, Bob Leroux, Stanley Roseboro, and Lynn Cattnach were "B" regulars.

Lorin Miller, Jim Mitchell, George Fulgham, Duane Gilmore, Jack Stockton, Art Ponti, Billy Nightingale, Tom Rosqui, Charles Woods, Don Fuller, and Bill Dement made up a frosh squad that, playing comparable teams from other schools, won twice from Waitsburg, broke even in two-game tangles with Dayton, Prescott, and Mac-Hi, and split four games with St. Patrick's.

The following is an excerpt taken from an efficiency record compiled by Coach Ledbetter:

MAULERS

During the year the blue and white boxers participated in smokers with Dayton, Clarkston, and Pomeroy.

INTRAMURALS

Panthers vs. Aces—Daredevils vs. Golden Bears. These were the announcements you would have heard if you had been around Wa-Hi this year to witness the extensive program carried on among the boys homerooms. This program is sponsored by the Boys' Federation and this year was under the direction of Louis Gehrett. A tabulation is kept of all the results and the games played are recorded. There has been a good turnout for every sport this year and the boys have really enjoyed some tough competition.

One new sport that has been introduced this year has been very popular with the boys. It is bowling, a sport that the boys can enjoy even after graduation. This added activity made a total of eight which were open for intramural competition. The program has made it possible for every boy in Wa-Hi to participate in a physical fitness program, and has furnished excellent recreation.

The sports in which intramural games were played and the winners in each are:

CHAMPS AGAIN

Regulars from last year's state championship baseball team available for the current season include Paul Criscola, Bob Demory, Ardell McBride, and Sherman Mitchell. An even break with the penitentiary Mavericks in two games and two victories over Dayton, 22-0, and 18-1, indicate that the 1943 edition of the Blue Devils carries plenty of wallop in its own right.

The schedule for the remainder of the 1943 season follows:

April 15	Dayton at Walla Walla	May 7	Lewiston at Walla Walla
April 20	Walla Walla Air Base	May 14	Yakima at Yakima
April 23	Clarkston	May 15	Sunnyside at Sunnyside
	Lewiston at Lewiston	May 18	Prescott at Walla Walla
April 24	Lewiston at Lewiston	May 21	Yakima at Walla Walla
April 30	Prescott at Prescott	May 28	Cross-State League playoffs
May 4	Walla Walla Air Base		at Walla Walla.

GIRLS' SPORTS

As usual, basketball was the most popular team sport for the girls this year with 106 girls turning out. Homeroom 318 won the championship by defeating 317. The volleyball tournament was won by homeroom 319.

In individual competition, Betty Jean Altergott defeated all comers to win the table tennis tournament. Joyce Elliott was runner-up. First, second and third places in badminton were won by Jean Long, Lois Waldron, and Eloise Dorsey.
